

A Step by Step Guide to Stopping Debt Collectors Dead in Their Tracks. With the debt gone!

When a debt collector letter comes through your door it can feel unsettling. Someone threatening to take your property away if you don't pay them large sums of money is blackmail and coercion. The best way to stop debt collectors dead in their tracks is to follow this free guide.

If you have ignored the debt collectors so far and you are due a visit be sure to take the following precautions;

1. Download this implied right of access denied notice and fix it to your front door. If you have a lockable gate at the front of the property ensure it stays locked. You can also fix a copy of the notice to the gate.
2. Ensure all windows and doors are kept closed.
3. Make sure members of your household do not open the door to anyone they don't recognise. Debt collectors can only gain entry if a door or window is open and they can get one foot over the threshold of your property or if you invite them in.
4. Move your car so it is not on your driveway or parked close to your home. It is best to move the car to a different street out of the eyes of the debt collectors.
5. Change the name on your auto-mobile to an unregistered company name. As an extra precaution you might want to remove the car out of your name with the DVLA. Thousands of people register their vehicles in a company name. This might be a good option for you even if you don't have a business. Simply pick a company name, but do not register the company with HMRC. Changing your name with the DVLA is a quick and easy process and does not cost any money. You will need your logbook to hand for this process.

Instructions on how to change the name on your auto-mobile

- Go to DVLA sold my vehicle section and following the instructions.
<https://www.gov.uk/browse/driving/buy-sell-scrap-vehicle>.

You will be technically selling the vehicle to the new company name. The company will be the new registered keeper. If you can use a different address for the new keeper this is ideal, if you don't have one then use your current address.

When you get to the section that asks for whether the new keeper wants to be notified of the sale via the DVLA select yes. Be sure to add an email address that you can access for the sale. You will need the new registered keeper email from the DVLA to re-tax the car if you pay via direct debit as the tax will be cancelled. To re-tax the car you will need the 12 digit number found on the new registered keeper section of your existing logbook.

- As an extra precaution, you may want to ring your insurance company and change the name on the insurance to the new company name.

Changing the name with the DVLA and insurance should take no longer than 30 minutes and only cost will be an administration fee with the insurance company. Your direct debit for the tax maybe slightly more on the first direct debit instalment but you will also receive a refund from the previous direct debit that was originally in your name. Millions of people have their auto-mobiles in a company name so this is completely above board and as we forge ahead towards a New World Order it is best to have nothing in our names. The added benefit of removing the car out of your name means that if you one day get a parking ticket you can avoid paying it as the fine will come in the unregistered company name and not your legal fiction - birth certificate name.

If you have just received the debt collector letter you can quickly remove the threats at your door and remove the debt associated to it by following the next set of instructions.

Respond as quickly as possible. Ignoring a debt collector will guarantee a visit. Luckily since you have stumbled by this article we have prepared a simple template you can download HERE. The template is easy to complete simply;

1. Change the date, add your details and the details of the debt collectors, print the letter, autograph and make a copy for your records and then send one copy to the debt collectors via 'signed for' post. Signed for post ensures that as soon as your letter is delivered you have proof that it has been accepted and the debt will go away with the debt collector. The template is affordable, can be used on more than one debt collector and also can be shared with friends and family.
2. If you feel that you would rather have someone do this process on your behalf. We offer a personalised service where we complete the template for you, autograph the letter and send it on your behalf. If you would prefer this personalised service we ask for a donation of 10% of the debt collector's bill. If you are interested in this service please email a copy of the debt collector letter, we will send you an invoice, once the donation is received we will respond to the debt collector immediately.

Our debt collector templates have helped hundreds of people save thousands of pounds.

Collectively we can stop the unlawful acts of debt collectors frightening people. Debt collectors do not have a contract with you and you have never authorised the debt collector to buy the debt. Debt collectors rely on the ignorance of people paying through fear but the reality is if the debt collector has paid your debt then the debt has gone and there is no need to pay anyone any money. The debt collectors are relying of the ignorance of people paying them when they had no right interfering in the first place.

This guide and the templates provided are only suitable for debt collectors only and not bailiffs.
